Dr. Ramalingaswami Meeting Hall
AIIMS, New Delhi

All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi Invites to the Uro-Oncology Update

Dear Esteemed Colleagues,

It brings us immense pleasure and enthusiasm to extend a heartfelt welcome to each of you to our forthcoming conference titled “Innovation and Equity in Genito-Urinary Malignancies,” scheduled to take place on November 2024, 23rd & 24th at Dr. Ramalingaswami Meeting Hall, AIIMS, New Delhi. This significant gathering is organized by the Research & Education Society of Medical Oncology.

We are thrilled to convene today to delve into groundbreaking advancements and pivotal discussions at the nexus of innovation and equity within the realm of genitourinary malignancies.

Throughout the duration of this conference, we aim to deeply explore the latest innovations in treatment modalities, diagnostic techniques, and therapeutic approaches for genitourinary cancers. Concurrently, we are committed to addressing the crucial imperative of equity in accessing these innovations, ensuring that every individual has equitable opportunities for optimal care and outcomes.

In collaboration with our esteemed international and national faculties, we are dedicated to tailoring scientific deliberations to provide actionable insights that can be implemented in clinical practice as early as Monday morning.

Let us unite in our fight against genitourinary malignancies and work together to ensure that this conference is both meaningful and successful.

Warm regards,

Organizing Team

INVITED INTERNATIONAL SPEAKER

Dr. Hans Hammers

MD, PhD

Eugene P. Frenkel, M.D. Scholar in Clinical Medicine
Co-Leader, Kidney Cancer Program
Co-Leader, Experimental Therapeutics
Associate Professor, Internal Medicine
Division of Hematology and Oncology
UT Southwestern

Dr. Hans Hammers, M.D., Ph.D., is a Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine at UT Southwestern Medical Center, and a member of the Division of Hematology and Oncology. He is the inaugural Eugene P. Frenkel, M.D. Scholar in Clinical Medicine.

Originally from Germany, Dr. Hammers received his medical and doctoral degrees from the Medical University of Luebeck. He completed his internal medicine residency training at Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center in Baltimore and received advanced training through a fellowship program in medical oncology at the Sidney Kimmel Comprehensive Cancer Center at Johns Hopkins University.

At Johns Hopkins, Dr. Hammers led the kidney cancer research efforts and played a major role in the development of immunotherapy with immune checkpoint inhibitors in kidney cancer. His work in immunotherapy has been nationally recognized, and he has been the principal investigator on several industry- and investigator-sponsored trials.

Certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine in medical oncology, Dr. Hammers joined the UT Southwestern faculty in 2016.

Dr. Hammers is the Co-Leader of Clinical Research and Immunotherapy for the Kidney Cancer Research Program and is using his research efforts to develop novel immunotherapies for kidney cancer.
